Washington is being inundated with people who don't want to see an election victory stolen by emboldened Radical Left Democrats. Our Country has had enough, they won't take it anymore! We hear you (and love you) from the Oval Office. MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN! (twitter.com)

6 He was lucky to get Sessions, as shitty as that sounds. Working for his administration was considered political suicide, if you don't remember.

Plus McConnell and Graham were pissed when a Democrat won the special election for Sessions' seat, so they wouldn't let the President fire Sessions when he wanted to. He was stuck with his inaction until they indicated they would be willing to confirm a new AG.

Barr was a wild card and he ended up not panning out. Unfortunately. He had a chance to be a historical figure and instead he chose to be a footnote.

2 Jesus said if you are struck on the right cheek, turn the other also. His admonition carried a lot of cultural nuance that has been lost to us unless you look into it.

Striking someone backhanded was considered an insult to someone you think of as a social lesser, while striking someone open-handed was an invitation to a social equal to engage in a fistfight. The left hand was considered unclean, and to backhand someone with your left hand would shame you more than it would them.

When you put this together, you get a modern translation more along the lines of, "If som  violently disrespects you in a legal way, do not retaliate with violence of your own. Exhibit ~~loving~~ but stern defiance by forcing them to acknowledge you as an equal "
